To Whom It May Concern,

It's already happening. Microsoft is attempting to compromise the very integrity of our local, state, and Federal Governments through promises of free and discounted products and services. Is it not clear through past presedent and behaviour that Microsoft is not just a ruthless competitor, but un-yielding to the most basic of American Tradition, Principles or Business Morality? Microsoft will not yield in it's endeavor to dominate and control. Ever. There seems no limit to the size of the Microsoft appetite for wealth and power. Nor does there seem any limit to the business, or geographical domain of Microsoft desire. Do We, as Americans, really want to be responsible for creating another global monopoly like DeBeers? Is this in the best interest of either the American people, Innovation, or the Global Economy? I think not.

Microsoft is a convicted corporation. They are a company found guilty in US court of law of serious offenses against the American Public. From past behaviour, indications are that it is highly likely that Microsoft will continue to violate US Law, and trod on American Values. They should be prosecuted accordingly.
